

Summer Reading Assignment Rubric 2010
10th, 11th, & 12th Grades

NAME: _____ BOOK TITLE/AUTHOR: _____

	Exceeds Standards (4)	Meets Standards (3)	Approaching Standards (2)	Insufficient Evidence (1-0)
Posts - Content (YOUR BOOK)	At least 3 QUALITY posts - each offers pointed insight into characters, plot, & theme. Additionally, connections, predictions, inferences, questions, wonderings and/or significance of text are explained thoughtfully and clearly.	3 QUALITY posts - each offers good insight into characters, plot, & theme. Additionally, connections, predictions, inferences, questions, wonderings and/or significance of text are explained.	3 posts - each offers insight into characters, plot, & theme. Posts may include connections, predictions, inferences, questions, wonderings and/or significance of text but they are not explained well or are not clear.	Less than 3 posts.
Posts - Variety (YOUR BOOK)	Posts clearly capture the significance & essence of the beginning, middle & end of the novel. Reader clearly understands the novel's direction.	Posts capture the beginning, middle & end of the novel.	Posts relate to the beginning, middle & end of the novel.	Less than 3 posts OR, posts do not relate to the beginning, middle & end of novel (e.g. All may be from middle).
Posts (OTHERS' BOOKS)	Poster thoughtfully and clearly engages with at least three readers by asking pointed questions, offering clear connections, and/or "pushing" readers to think more critically & deeply about their novels.	Poster engages with at least three readers by asking questions, offering connections, and/or "pushing" readers to think about their novels.	Poster responds to at least three readers by asking questions or offering connections.	Less than 3 posts OR, does not offer any type of meaningful response to a reader.
Clarity & Grammar	Overall, writing is clear, correct, and with no significant grammatical errors	Overall, writing is clear & contains few significant grammatical errors	Overall, writing is mostly clear but contains some significant grammatical errors	Overall, writing is not clear and/or contains significant grammatical errors
Mechanics & Punctuation	Writing contains no significant errors in spelling, punctuation, & capitalization	Writing contains few significant errors in spelling, punctuation, & capitalization	Writing contains some significant errors in spelling, punctuation, & capitalization	Writing contains many significant errors in spelling, punctuation, & capitalization
Recommendation Paragraph	Paragraph is clear, thoughtful and convincing & contains all the necessary elements of a complete paragraph (topic sentence, transitions, supporting sentences, clear examples/details, & closing sentence). Also, perfect clarity, grammar, mechanics & punctuation.	Paragraph is clear and contains all the necessary elements of a complete paragraph. Also, few errors in clarity, grammar, mechanics and/or punctuation.	Paragraph is mostly clear and contains most of the necessary elements of a complete paragraph. Also, some errors in clarity, grammar, mechanics and/or punctuation.	Paragraph is only somewhat clear and does not contain the necessary elements of a complete paragraph. Also, many errors in clarity, grammar, mechanics and/or punctuation.

_____/24= _____/100%

Recommendation

*For this part of the assignment, you must convince a potential reader whether or not to read your novel. This must be done in a complete paragraph format (i.e. Topic sentence, transitional words and phrases, supporting sentences with clear details and examples, and a closing sentence). Your typed paragraph must be posted. In any case, you must pay attention to clarity, grammar, mechanics, and punctuation.

=====

PLAN/DRAFT/OUTLINE YOUR PARAGRAPH HERE: